Case Background

Feline

Case Data

Day 0 - Monday - Date of pronouncement

Day 1 - Tuesday - The family reached out for pet preservation services, informing us that their pet had passed the day prior and was currently in refrigeration at their veterinary office.

- We provided instructions for packaging and transportation of the pet patient.

Day 2 - Wednesday - The pet patient was shipped overnight on dry ice to our facility.

Day 3 - Thursday - Upon arrival, the surgical isolation of the patient's brain began immediately.

- The pet patient's brain was immersed in 10% neutral buffered formalin and it was placed into refrigeration for permanent storage.
